An Armada of Cats: Travels in Israel

A group of cats has been spotted sailing around Israel in a small boat. The cats, who are all different ages and breeds, have been named the "Armada of Cats" by the local media. The cats have been spotted in several different locations around the country, including the Sea of Galilee, the Dead Sea, and the Mediterranean Sea. They have become a popular tourist attraction, and many people have come to see the cats and their boat.

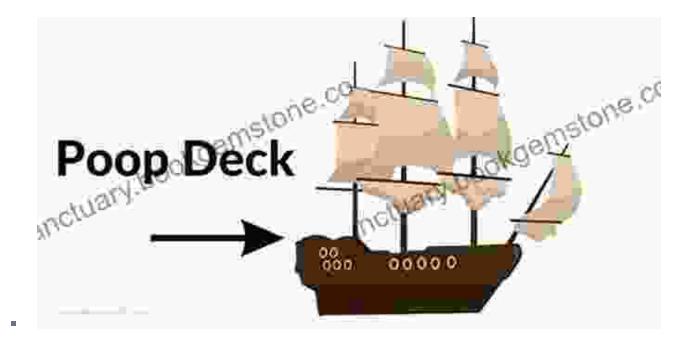

The cats are all owned by a local man named Moshe Cohen. Cohen said that he decided to take the cats on a boat trip after they started to get bored with their usual routine. "They were always just sitting around the house, sleeping and eating," said Cohen. "I thought it would be fun to take them on an adventure."

The cats seem to be enjoying their trip. They have been seen playing on the deck of the boat and sunbathing on the poop deck. They have also been spotted swimming in the sea. Cohen said that he plans to continue taking the cats on boat trips. "They love it," he said. "It's a great way for them to get some exercise and have some fun."

The Armada of Cats has become a popular tourist attraction. Many people have come to see the cats and their boat. Cohen said that he is happy to share his cats with the world.
