Blind Deception MC is a prominent motorcycle club based in the state of Montana. Founded in the early 2000s, the club has grown significantly in recent years and now has chapters in several cities and towns across the state. Blind Deception is considered an "outlaw motorcycle gang" (OMG) by law enforcement and intelligence agencies, due to their involvement in various criminal activities, including drug trafficking, weapons possession, and violent crime.

The club's insignia features a skull with a blindfold over its eyes, which symbolizes the club's motto: "See no evil, hear no evil, speak no evil." This motto is often interpreted as a code of silence that members of the club are expected to adhere to, especially when it comes to criminal activities.

Blind Deception is closely associated with the Kings Of Retribution MC, a larger OMG that operates in several states across the western United States. The two clubs often work together on criminal enterprises and share similar values and ideologies.

According to law enforcement sources, Blind Deception is involved in a wide range of criminal activities, including drug trafficking, weapons possession, extortion, and assault. The club has also been linked to several violent incidents, including shootings and stabbings.

In recent years, law enforcement has stepped up its efforts to crack down on Blind Deception and other OMGs in Montana. In 2018, the club's clubhouse in Billings was raided by the FBI and local law enforcement, and several members were arrested on drug and weapons charges.

Despite the increased law enforcement attention, Blind Deception remains an active and influential OMG in Montana. The club continues to recruit new members and expand its criminal operations, posing a significant threat to public safety.

History

The origins of Blind Deception MC can be traced back to the early 2000s, when a group of motorcycle enthusiasts in Billings, Montana, decided to form a new club. The club was originally called the "Montana Outlaws," but they later changed their name to Blind Deception.

In the early years, Blind Deception was a small club with only a few members. However, the club quickly grew in size and influence, and by the mid-2000s, it had chapters in several cities and towns across Montana.

As the club grew, it also became more involved in criminal activities. Blind Deception members were arrested for a variety of crimes, including drug trafficking, weapons possession, and assault. The club also became involved in several violent incidents, including shootings and stabbings.

In 2010, Blind Deception became an official chapter of the Kings Of Retribution MC, a larger OMG that operates in several states across the western United States. This alliance gave Blind Deception access to a wider network of criminal contacts and resources.

Culture

Blind Deception MC is a close-knit organization with a strong sense of brotherhood. Members of the club are expected to be loyal to the club and to each other, and they are expected to follow the club's rules and regulations.

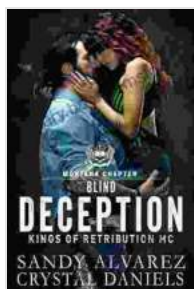

The club's culture is heavily influenced by the outlaw biker lifestyle. Members of Blind Deception wear leather vests and patches, and they ride Harley-Davidson motorcycles. The club also has its own set of traditions and rituals.

Blind Deception is a male-only club, and women are not allowed to become full members. However, women are sometimes allowed to associate with the club as "hang-arounds" or "prospects."

Criminal Activities

Blind Deception MC is involved in a wide range of criminal activities, including drug trafficking, weapons possession, extortion, and assault. The club has also been linked to several violent incidents, including shootings and stabbings.

Drug trafficking is one of the club's main sources of income. Blind Deception members are involved in the
