Fred Noe, Jim Beam's great-grandson, is the current Master Distiller at Beam Suntory. Under his guidance, the company has continued to innovate and produce exceptional bourbons. Fred Noe's passion for bourbon is evident in every bottle of The Beaumont 12.

The Art of Crafting The Beaumont 12

The Beaumont 12 is crafted using the finest ingredients and a meticulous aging process. The corn, rye, and barley used in the mash are all grown in Kentucky, ensuring the purest flavors. The whiskey is then aged for 12 years in charred oak barrels, which impart a rich amber color and complex flavors.

During the aging process, the whiskey undergoes a unique "Double Barreling" technique. After spending 10 years in traditional charred oak barrels, the whiskey is transferred to a second set of barrels that have been toasted and charred. This additional aging process adds an extra layer of complexity and smoothness to the whiskey.

Tasting Notes

The Beaumont 12 is a bourbon that truly lives up to its name. It offers a captivating aroma of toasted oak, caramel, and vanilla. The flavor is a symphony of spice, honey, and dried fruit, with a hint of leather and tobacco. The finish is long and smooth, leaving a lingering impression of warmth and satisfaction.

Awards and Recognition

The Beaumont 12 has received numerous awards and accolades for its exceptional quality. Some of the most notable awards include:

- Double Gold Medal at the San Francisco World Spirits Competition
- 95 points from Wine Enthusiast
- 94 points from The Whisky Advocate
- 92 points from Jim Murray's Whisky Bible
